

BRIEF MENTION.

The candidates were the busiest men we saw Monday.

To-morrow is Good Friday, and next Sunday is Easter.

April seems to be trying to outdo March on the wind question.

Plonies and fishing parties are being talked of by the young people.

Corn planting is now in order. The farmers should plant plenty of it.

It is said that another party of negroes will leave for Arkansas this evening.

Barefoot season approaches, and the boys are beaming with joyful anticipations.

Messrs. Sullivan & Bro. received a carload of the Brown Sulky Cultivators last Friday.

Mr. J. H. Bowden offers some very fine watermelon seed for sale. See advertisement.

Messrs. G. W. Fant & Son have a beautiful assortment of Easter Cards. Call and see them.

The dealers in harvesting machinery in this city are anticipating a good business this season.

Miss Dora Norris, one of Abbeville County's most charming young ladies, is visiting relatives in the city.

The clerks are wondering if the merchants are going to close the stores at 6 o'clock during the summer season.

Everybody is wondering who will be the candidates for Legislative honors. Make yourselves known, gentlemen.

Governor Thompson has appointed Mr. R. Y. H. Nance Corner for this County, vice Mr. J. W. Keys, who has resigned.

Two candidates are announced this week—Mr. J. H. Jones for Sheriff and Capt. B. F. Duncan for County Commissioner.

When a man goes out collecting now, he had better carry along a double-barreled shotgun—himself he expects to collect anything.

Round trip tickets from Anderson to Charleston will be on sale on the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th, good until the 21st inst., for $10.50.

Where and when will the next cyclone strike? The man who can correctly answer the question will get our vote for any office he wants.

It is said that a number of the negroes who recently went to Arkansas are dissatisfied, and are trying to get money to return to Anderson.

Last Monday was an unusually quiet Saturday. The farmers were too busy to come to town, consequently there were not many people here.

Adjutant and Inspector General Manigault will make his annual inspection of the Palmetto Riflemen of this city on Wednesday, May 21st.

An old gentleman of Sylvania, Ga., recently married his young wife, not for wealth nor for beauty, but because he wanted a "corn drapper."

The City Council has ordered through Messrs. Wilhite & Wilhite six new street lamps, of the same pattern as those used on the Court House Square.

We are requested to announce that Rev. J. O. Wingo will preach at Shiloh Baptist Church next Saturday and Sunday at the usual hour of holding services.

Note the change in Dr. A. P. Johnston's advertisement. Visit his store on Main street and you will always find something to tempt your appetite.

It is said that camphor and water will keep flowers fresh for a longer time than anything else, and will revive them when faded. The process is easy enough to try.

Whenever you come to town and want to see us on business, don't forget that we have moved into our new building on Whitner street, opposite the Auditor's office.

Married, at the residence of Mr. W. T. Dean, the bride's father, by Rev. R. C. Ligon, on Wednesday evening, 2nd inst., Dr. R. A. Reid and Miss L. E. Dean. All of Anderson County.

We would direct the attention of our readers to the law card of Mr. E. W. Long, which appears in another column. Any business entrusted to him will be promptly attended to.

There will be no preaching in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday. Dr. Frieron will be absent in attendance upon Presbytery, which convenes at Bachelor's Retreat to-morrow.

The Spring has come, the flowers all bloom, the birds sing out its lay, and shortly, very shortly, the long-legged mosquito will come in with his tenor and present his bill for protest.

Note the change in the advertisement of Messrs. Simpson, Reid & Co., and when you need any drugs, medicines, paints, garden seeds, &c., give them a call. They sell Wizard Oil.

Mr. J. D. Maxwell has contracted with Mr. J. W. Todd for the rebuilding of his residence upon the site of the one recently destroyed by fire. It will be the same size and style as the one burned.

The Street Overseer has had a large force of hands at work on the streets during the past week. As long as the weather permits, the work will go on until all the streets have been worked over.

Messrs. Hill & Harrison have a new advertisement in this issue. Besides a big lot of Wizard Oil, they also have everything else usually kept in a drug store. Don't take our word for it, but call and see.

We would call attention to the advertisement of Mr. P. F. King, who has a lot of fine lumber on hand at the Blue Ridge yard. He will be pleased to receive and fill orders for all kinds of pine and oak lumber.

Miss Mariah McGregor, an aged maid, on lady of this County, died at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Pearson, in Marion township, last Sunday night. She was a sister of the late John McGregor, of this County.

Mrs. L. P. Smith, who has been spending several months in Florida, returned to Anderson last week. Her many friends are glad to know that her sojourn in the "Land of Flowers" has been beneficial to her health.

President Humphreys informs us that Maj. A. J. Twigg, contractor, will be in Anderson on or about the 20th inst. with one hundred convicts and fifty mules to finish up the grading on this end of the Savannah Valley Railroad.

Mr. Andy Brown sent us a couple of small carp to eat last week, and we tested them in the frying pan. If the large ones are as delicious baked as the small ones are when fried, they are all that the most enthusiastic carp raisers claim for them.

Says an experienced bachelor: "The best thing to take when you kiss a pretty girl is time. The more you take the better she likes it. What a fool he must be to take 'kiss.' If he knew what was good he'd take time, and let time go to thunder."

A little daughter, about ten years of age, of Mr. W. N. Payne, who lives at Central, was killed by the explosion of a lamp one night last week. In passing from one room to another with the lamp in her hand it exploded, set her on fire and burnt her body into a crisp.

The Intelligencer is growing more popular every day, judging from the number of new subscribers we are adding to our list. This is election year, and no one can well afford to do without a newspaper. Send us your name, together with $1.50, and we will send you the paper.

Mr. D. E. Carlisle tells us that a mad dog was killed by Mr. J. F. Anderson, near Roberts' Church, last Thursday. The dog bit several dogs on Mr. S. C. Humphreys' plantation, and it is believed bit several more in the same neighborhood. The people in that section should be on the lookout.

There is a deep significance in silence. Were a man forced for a length of time but to hold his peace, it were in most cases an incalculable benefit to his insight. Thought works in silence, so does virtue. What folly would one avoid did the tongue be quiet till the mind had finished and was calling for utterance.

Messrs. McCully, Cathcart & Co. desire to remind their friends and customers that they are agents for the Champion Binders, Reapers and Mowers, and will make it to the interest of persons needing this kind of machinery to call and see them before purchasing. Their new advertisement will appear next week.

Our neighbors, Messrs. Smith & Co., while exhibiting their sewing machines to their customers, treat us daily to some charming music from their Dulciphone. Friend Smith is a good talker, and when he becomes a little more adept in the street vendor's "gab," we expect to see him out on the street selling machine oil.

The dress parade of the Palmetto Riflemen and the Cadets of the Anderson Military School last Thursday afternoon was witnessed by quite a crowd of ladies and children. Both Companies acquitted themselves in a creditable manner. As the weather is becoming more pleasant, we hope to see both Companies on the streets often.

"My darling, you do not bestow upon me so much affection as you did before we were married," remarked a pouting bride to her husband the other day. "Don't I?" he replied. "No, you do not; you pay very little attention to me." "Well, my dear," observed the wicked husband, "did you ever see a man run after a horse after he had caught it?"

Mrs. Mary Shirley, wife of Mr. A. K. Shirley, died in this city last Friday morning, after a brief but painful illness with pneumonia and peritonitis, aged eighteen years. She was a member of New Prospect Baptist Church, and her remains were carried there and interred in the adjacent graveyard on Saturday morning. She had been married but a few months.

At the solicitation of several of our citizens, the Wizard Oil Concert Company returned to Anderson on Wednesday evening of last week and gave a concert in Masonic Hall to a very large audience. We do not remember to have ever witnessed an entertainment that gave more general satisfaction. The programme throughout was exceedingly interesting, and brought forth rounds of applause from the appreciative audience.

The following are the officers elected to serve Anderson Division, Sons of Temperance, the ensuing quarter: W. P. John M. Hubbard; W. A. James T. Jones; R. S. Ham Webb; A. R. S. D. J. Simpson; F. S. G. N. Broyles; Treas.—A. B. Towers; Chap.—Rev. D. R. Brown; Con.—R. C. Webb; A. C. O. J. Moore; I. S.—Thos. Brady; O. S.—J. S. Mattison. The officers will be installed this evening. A full attendance of the members is desired.

List of letters remaining in the Post-office at Anderson for the week ending April 5: J. F. Crow, George Duncan, Lizzie Gable, J. F. Crow, George Duncan, Jas. P. Gray, Annie Groves, R. B. Hays, Mrs. A. C. Johnston, Mrs. J. C. Johnson, J. B. Leverett, Gus Pore, William Robinson, Rev. H. D. Sanders, Miss Alice Vance, Rob't Walsline (B), Chas. T. Watkins, Mrs. Katie Williams, Mariah Watson, Lawrence Williams, Sym Webb, L. C. Wilson, J. B. White.

We would direct attention to the advertisement of Mr. J. M. McConnell which appears elsewhere. He has recently opened out a new and elegant assortment of dry goods, notions, millinery, &c., in the store-room formerly occupied by Brook & Mauldin, and will make it to the special advantage of the ladies to call and see his stock. His store is managed by Miss Sallie Bowie, an experienced milliner. We bespeak for Mr. McConnell a liberal share of the public trade.

On Tuesday night about 11 o'clock the bedding in an up-stairs room of Mr. J. F. Wilson's residence, in this city, caught fire. Fortunately a member of the family had not retired for the night, and the alarm was promptly given. Before many persons reached the scene, the bedding had been thrown out doors and the flames subdued. The wind was blowing furiously at the time, and if the fire had got under headway it would have been impossible to have saved anything within its reach.

A certain young man in the city called on his favorite girl a few nights since. He had not been long in the parlor before the young lady's little brother came in and climbed upon his lap. The young lady spoke to the little fellow, and told him he was too big and heavy to set on Mr. —'s lap. "No I ain't," retorted the little fellow; "I saw you sitting on his lap the other night, and I'm not near as big and heavy as you are." The little fellow was immediately hustled off to bed, with instructions to his ma to give him a flogging.

Some of our young readers may like to try the experiment of making a hanging garden of a sponge. Take a white sponge of large size, and sow it full of rice, hemp, canary, and other seeds; then place it in a shallow dish, in which a little water is constantly kept, and as the sponge will absorb the moisture, the seeds will begin to sprout. When this has taken place, the sponge may be suspended by cords and hung where a little sunshine will enter. It will thus become a mass of green foliage, and should be refreshed with water daily so as to be kept moist.

Mr. Daniel K. Watson, a highly respected citizen of this County, died at his residence in Varnnes township last Saturday morning, after an illness of three days, at the advanced age of eighty-seven years. Mr. Watson was a remarkably active, stout, healthy man, and during his long life scarcely knew what it was to be sick. He was born, raised and always resided in the immediate neighborhood where he died. He was a consistent member of Mt. Creek Baptist Church for more than fifty years. A kind and obliging neighbor, upright and honest in all his dealings with his fellow-man, he naturally made a friend of every one with whom he came in contact. In his death Anderson County has lost a worthy citizen. After appropriate funeral services, conducted by Rev. L. M. Ayer, his remains were interred in the Mt. Creek Graves yard last Sunday morning. He leaves a large connection and a host of friends to mourn his death.

The County Republican Convention met here last Friday for the purpose of electing delegates to the State and Congressional Conventions, which meet in Columbia on the 15th inst. The meeting was not largely attended, and no business worth mentioning was transacted. The following are the delegates elected to the State Convention: Wm. A. Clarke, Aaron Saxton, Wm. H. Gassaway and Lawrence Walker; to the Congressional Convention—Lawrence Jones, Wm. H. Thompson and D. H. Gogod. The delegates were instructed to vote for R. P. Blodgett, or Wallaha, and Wm. A. Clarke, of this city, as delegates to the Chicago Convention. We are informed that Lawrence Jones, the County Chairman, is dissatisfied because he was not elected a delegate to the State Convention, as he desires to go to the Chicago Convention. It is understood that the delegation will be under the control of Collector Brynton, who will, we presume, use them in the interest of Arthur.

A Graphic Description of the Destruction wrought on the Pickens Place near Pendleton.

The Charleston News and Courier, of last Friday, contained the following:

Col. Samuel B. Pickens, who has recently returned from a visit to his father's place near Pendleton, which was seriously injured by the cyclone a few days ago, in conversation with a reporter for the News and Courier yesterday gave a very graphic description of the approach and the work of the cyclone as witnessed by his father, Col. T. J. Pickens, and by his mother, brother and sister, who were on the place at the time.

The tornado's approach was heralded by a fearful hissing noise and it was seen a mile off like a huge cone stretching from the east to the west. Trees, rocks, pieces of lumber and dirt seemed to be sucked into the vortex like so many atoms and were then vomited forth from the top of the cone and fell in immense distances. As soon as the approach of the monster was seen, Col. Pickens made an attempt to get his family out of the house into the garden, which was bare of trees. He had only reached the back door of the house, however, when he was carried by the suction of the air in the direction of the storm. The air in the direction of the storm was full of sand and pebbles and pieces of timber, and it was impossible to see a foot ahead. Col. Pickens was then whirled around in the direction of the kitchen and he held on to the corner of the building until he was levelled and scattered by the wind. Subsequently he found himself at the back door of his residence with a bad bruise on his head and a cut in his forehead, which he had sustained to his head with what appeared to be the four massive columns which supported the front piazza, blew every door and window-sash on the north of the house completely through the house, and as with a giant's hand stirred up everything in the rooms into an inextricable mass. Much of the furniture was smashed, the papering and the pictures were torn from the wall, the dinner table which was set ready for the meal was smashed into atoms with everything on it. The fire in the fire-place, which he had extinguished before they had much headway, the oaks which were uprooted, and many of them measured nine feet in circumference. All the outbuildings on the premises were levelled and scattered around. The storm lasted only a few moments, but its force in the centre of its path was irresistible.

A Card.

Mr. Editor: I feel under many obligations to the citizens, both white and colored, at and about Pendleton for the kindness shown to the families living on the North place in their hour of distress and need. After the cyclone of the 25th ult. had passed, these families were certainly in a very sad condition, and had they been left to care for themselves they would have suffered. But many, both white and colored, came to their relief, and within four days all were again under shelter, very comfortably housed, and able to go on with their farm work. This has been a great kind, as to me as well as to them, and I do hereby acknowledge my indebtedness and sincerely thank each and all for the help rendered. It is a good thing to be surrounded by neighbors so kind and willing to help.

Very respectfully,
W. W. MILLS.

A Card.

Mr. Editor: I will be obliged to you for a small space in your columns to return the heartfelt thanks of myself and family to our kind and sympathizing friends and neighbors, white and colored, who came to our aid and deliverance from the calamity that has befallen us by the cyclone. The warm sympathy expressed and the generous labor amid the pressed and the desolated home to make it habitable, will ever be dearly cherished among the grateful memories of the past.

Respectfully,
T. J. PICKENS.

MR. EDITOR:

We beg leave through the columns of your journal to announce to the people of Anderson County in particular, and the balance of the world in general, that by the first of April we will be located in our elegant New Store Room on Whitner Street, a few steps from the Waverly House. We have fitted up this room to meet the demands of our increasing business, and will now be able to show a large stock and to be at our advantage than ever before.

In accomplishing this work we have not lost sight of the fact that a handsome store room demands a pretty stock of goods, and have therefore carefully selected a beautiful line of Ready-Made Clothing and Piece Goods, consisting of Broadcloths, English and French Diagonals, Flannels, Cassimeres, Jeans and Cottonades. We will also keep on hand a good line of Gents' Furnishings Goods, such as Shirts, Drawers, Socks, Handkerchiefs, Cravats and Collars, and in fact everything that is usually kept in a first-class Gents' Furnishing Store, except Boots and Shoes.

We neglected to mention that we would keep Hats and Caps, of which we have purchased a nice stock.

We will be glad to welcome our friends in our new quarters, and hope they will not forget us when they come to the city, and give us a call, whether they wish to purchase or not.

We beg leave to add also that Mr. J. R. Smith, who has been known so long in our County, will occupy a part of our room, and will be pleased to see all of his old friends. He will be prepared to Cut and make Suits, and respectfully asks the patronage of his former customers.

Allow us to say, in conclusion, that we not only desire to retain the patronage of old customers, but hope by diligence and fair dealing to add many others to our list.

Very Respectfully,

SMITH & CO.
